

LEXI

I'll help you when I'm done. We are going to have fun this summer, but remember when school starts I have to buckle down.

MEGAN

I know, I know you want to be a Doctor.

Lexi walks over to the window in her room and looks out it.

LEXI

I can't explain why I mean there is something to me about being able to save someone's life. I wonder who lives in the big house up there.

JAYLIN

Dude you told me to wake you up before I left to pick your lard ass up.

ZACH

I didn't say anything about a lard ass. Maybe you heard someone talking about your girl Gabby. Opps did I say that out loud?

JAYLIN

Um yea you did but don't sweat it cause when I tell her what you said I'll make sure to add ton tassy to it when I tell her

ZACH

You better not she'll kick my ass.

JAYLIN

That she will besides at least I have a girl.

ZACH

I can have one. I'm just waiting for one worth while. Are you going to talk my ear off or can I take a shower before you get here so I don't have to worry about you trying to sneak a peak.

JAYLIN

I'll be there in ten minutes. Don't keep me waiting now.

ZACH

I'm getting up now. Just honk the horn when you get here.

JAYLIN

I'm not honking. Your mom hates it when I do that.

ZACH

No she don't she just likes playing with you.

JAYLIN

Okay whatever. You just be ready when I get there.

ZACH

Dude don't keep me waiting.

Zach hangs up his phone, leans over and puts his phone on the night stands next to the clock radio. He looks at the time and gets back in his bed and closes his eyes.
